

Completing Level I

For Undergraduate students

If you are a Single Honours Student

- You must achieve an overall weighted aggregate of 40%+ for your Level of Study
- You will not be able to continue even with an aggregate of 40%+ if:
- Your profile includes any mark of 0 associated with non-submission or academic misconduct.
- You have failed to reach a minimum of Grade E for any academic assessment that the University has defined as a “Qualifying Component”.
- You do not meet Professional or Statutory Regulatory Body (PSRB) requirements.

For Combined Honours Students

- You must achieve an overall weighted aggregate of 40%+ for both of your Subjects
- You will not be able to progress even with an aggregate of 40%+ if:
- Your profile includes any mark of 0 associated with non-submission or academic misconduct.
- You have failed to reach a minimum of Grade E for any academic assessment that the University has defined as a “Qualifying Component”.
- You do not meet Professional or Statutory Regulatory Body (PSRB) requirements.

For Combined Honours Students

Note

- If you achieve 40%+ in one Subject
- but achieve 35-39% in your other Subject
- and an overall aggregate of both subjects of 40 or above

you may apply to change to Single Honours in the Subject you passed.

If you move to Single Honours you will be considered to have a Pass with Reservation in the Subject you are leaving at Level I.

If you are taking ONE 120-credit block
AND a zero-credit placement block

In order to pass Intermediate Level and become eligible to progress to Honours Level, you must normally:

- ☺ Fulfil the requirements shown on earlier slides AND pass the placement block.
