

Summer Study Abroad

Britain Now: Culture, Conflict and Change

We are delighted to offer 3 week courses in May, June and July on a range of interdisciplinary themes for our partner universities. We do hope you will join us.

Cost:

3 week course: 3 USA academic credits. This course has no fee as it cannot be taken on its own. Students can combine it with a fee-paying morning-course to gain a further 3 credits. This would total 6 credits and may make US students eligible for financial aid.

Course theme: Life & Culture in the UK

This course explores notions of Britishness and gives international students an interesting opportunity to study contemporary British society and some of its past! It is an inter-disciplinary course which explores culture, politics, history and society.

Students study British Life, understanding the origins and transformations of the United Kingdom. This gives you a good basis to investigate Britain further exploring the evolution of British values and consider socio-political changes in recent times. Students will learn about cultures and sub-cultures which have impacted society.

This course is dependent on viable numbers.
