

Important information about your Student Contract with Liverpool Hope University 2016-17

If you require these terms and conditions or any of the documents referred to herein in a different format for your ease of reference, please contact the University Secretary donelag@hope.ac.uk

If you decide to accept an offer from Liverpool Hope University, a contract will be formed between you and the University. Your rights and obligations to the University and the University's obligations to you arising under that contract are set out in the documents listed below which form the terms and conditions of your student contract.

- Your offer letter
- The Undergraduate or Postgraduate Prospectus, as appropriate
- The University's Regulations and policies – a summary of the main ones can be found in the Student Guide
- Programme requirements, which are shown for each programme on the subject leaflets section of our website.

The University is committed to supporting you to achieve the best possible academic outcome. We believe that it is important that you fully engage with your programme to ensure that you have every opportunity to succeed. The University's pledge to you and the expectations required from you are set out in the Hope Charter.

We expect you to attend all of your timetabled learning activities and to advise us as soon as possible if circumstances arise which affect your ability to do so in accordance with the University's Regulations. We reserve the right to ask you to repeat or withdraw from your studies on academic or attendance grounds in accordance with the University's Regulations.

A summary of some of key terms and conditions are set out below:

Changes to a Programme

The University's prospectus for each academic year is published approximately 18 months in advance and it is possible for you to apply to the Programme quite some months prior to commencing your studies. Therefore, due to the time lapse between your application and actual registration, there may be occasions when the University needs to make changes to your published Programme either before or after you commence your studies. Changes may be necessary, for example, to meet the requirements of an accrediting body or to keep courses contemporary by updating practices or areas of study. Changes to Programmes or elements of Programmes may also be needed because of circumstances outside the reasonable control of the University, such as a key member of staff leaving the University or being unable to teach (where the Programme or element is reliant on that person's expertise) or where the minimum or maximum number of students needed to ensure a good educational or student experience has not been met or has been exceeded. Other circumstances outside the reasonable control of the University include unexpected lack of funding, industrial action, severe weather, fire, civil disorder, political unrest, government restrictions or serious concern about the transmission of serious illness making a course unsafe to deliver.

Any changes to programmes will be made in accordance with the requirements for Making Modification to Approved Programmes (MMAP). For any proposed material changes, the University will enter into consultation with students giving you as much notice as possible. When discussing changes with you we will make clear the reason for the change. In considering any change, we will ensure that we give full consideration to your interests and to your rights under this contract. Notice of changes will be sent to the email address you have provided and/or your student email, will be published on the University's Virtual Learning Environment, "Moodle".

Fees

Once you have registered as a student, we raise a tuition fee invoice for the full academic year and you are liable for this payment. You are also responsible for the timely payment of your tuition fee and any additional costs that you may incur (such as library fines or field work costs). The tuition fee levels for each type of student are set out at the following links:

Undergraduate: www.hope.ac.uk/undergraduate/feesandfunding

Postgraduate: www.hope.ac.uk/postgraduate/feesandfunding

PGCE: www.hope.ac.uk/pgce/feesandfunding

International: www.hope.ac.uk/international/feesandscholarships or by contacting the Student Finance office by email or telephone.

Tuition fees may be subject to an annual increase.

If you make an agreement to make payments by instalments on agreed dates, you must make payment on or before those dates without further notification from us.

If you do not pay your tuition fees in full or on time, the University may take action against you and this is set out in the University Fees Regulations (Appendix A). As a result, you may not be allowed to progress on your Programme or your studies at the University may be terminated. The University may also take legal action against you to recover any unpaid fees.

If you do not pay any other (non-tuition) fees or other sums you owe, the University may take action to recover those sums. This may include withholding any service for which you owe money (for example, if you do not pay library fines you may not be allowed to access the Library or use some or all of its facilities) or taking legal action against you.

If you decide to defer, you will be charged the tuition fee applicable for the year you commence your Programme. You will receive notification of this from the University.

Your Right to Cancel

You can cancel your place by contacting financequeries@hope.ac.uk or by using the form in any time before you have enrolled or within 14 days of your acceptance of the place, if that is later.

If you decide to withdraw from the University and cancel the contract, you are advised to speak to your Faculty who can give you advice as to the available options. If you decide to proceed with withdrawal (after the 14 day cancellation period as set out above) you must complete an interruption or withdrawal from studies form as you will remain liable for your fees for the remainder of the academic session until this has been done. The amount of fees you have to pay after your withdrawal will depend on the type of course you are studying and how your fees are paid.

Your end date is the date your notification of withdrawal, is received in writing, or, a later date if advanced notification is given by you that you intend to withdraw at a date in the future. It is not your final date of attendance at the University.

We raise a tuition fee invoices for the full academic year after your registration. However if you are a full time home undergraduate student or a PGCE student, Liverpool Hope University may recalculate your tuition fees if you withdraw, suspend, transfer course or change your study mode (full-time to part-time or vice versa). We will do the recalculation based on the date this action occurs, and in line with the fee liability dates below.

If you withdraw in the final term your fees will not be refunded.

Further details of the Tuition Fee Refund Policy together with policies regarding other groups of students such as postgraduate students can be found in University Fees Regulations.
